Supplement To THE TIMES.

WETASKIWIN, ALBERTA, FRIDAY, MAY 10, 1901.

Cherry Grove.

Miss Myers spent Sunday under the parental roof.

George Herndon spent a few days last week in this vicinity.

Mr. McLeod, of town, took a drive to Cherry Grove one day last week.

Geo. Waterson purchased two fine thoroughbred animals in Calgary a short time ago.

Cherry Grove school was closed on account of sickness in the district, but re-opened a few days ago.

N. L. Wilson has returned from Calgary. We are glad to see "Curg's" merry face once more amongst us.

It is with regret that the young people of this vicinity learn of the departure of Mr. Hobbs from Angus Ridge, who will be greatly missed, not only by the people of Angus Ridge, but by the people of Cherry Grove among whom he spent a great deal of his spare time. We wish Mr. Hobbs every success in his new field of labor.

A young man from Cherry Grove had rather a thrilling experience a few days ago on his way to town. As he was endeavoring to cross the quagmire near town one of his horses became weary and lay down to rest. When the driver thought the quadruped had sufficient time to restore its vitality, he (by frequent applications of the well-known instrument of torture) tried to induce the exhausted animal to proceed, but, alas! all in vain, it was unable to move the onerous load, which consisted of a number of sacks of grain, and also a fair companion. After cogitating for a brief time, he decided to make a sort of temporary sidewalk with his sacks of grain in order that his partner might reach terra firma. This being accomplished, he left his companion in charge of his horses while, with haste, he walked to town and borrowed several chains and returned to the scene of misfortune, finding his faithful partner fulfilling the ponderous duties imposed upon her. After several attempts, he succeeded in getting his wagon out of the quagmire, re-loaded it, and proceeded on his journey rejoicing. Mr. Doupe, of Cherry Grove, thinks it is due time to have the trail repaired, so that he can get to town without having such trying experiences.

Little Beaver Chips.

Eli Defrain, jr., has begun breaking for J. Locke.

Joe Bombard visited Little Beaver last week.

John Locke has the logs on his premises to build a house.

George and Nathaniel Walker made a trip to town Saturday.

Harry Oims has his house completed and ready to move into.

C. Lapointe purchased a new organ last week for his daughter Mary.

Several new-comers came here last Wednesday with their families to settle.

Mr. Brown, the Wetaskiwin photographer, drove through here last Monday.

Ed. Mitchell has about finished seeding and will begin improving his own farm.

Mrs. Miltenberger has been on the sick list for about a week, but is somewhat better.

Eli Defrain, of Nebraska, has about completed his house, and will move onto his claim in a few days.

J. Scarfe and T. Niese have moved onto their claims and are putting in their time breaking prairie.

Three of our young people while coming home from town last week, lost the road. How did that happen, Sam?

Mr. Hanson and Mr. Keiser have been down to Buffalo Lake trying to purchase two yoke of oxen for breaking purposes.

Penron Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Facey visited at the Park Sunday.

The farmers are about through with their seeding, the land being in fine shape last week.

W. A. Fee has commenced to break. This is his first experience in breaking up prairie land. Will is struck on the job and thinks he can break up land as good and a little better than what he has seen. You have a good team, Will, just keep right on.

A. Dahens has erected a fine barn and house on his farm. They are frame and well built. He is also plastering his house, and intends to paint the entire buildings, which will cast a shade of beauty through the surrounding evergreens. A. Dahens is a rustler as are also his boys. Send along a few more like him, even if he is Dutch,

Mrs. Frank Fee left for North Dakota on Tuesday and will remain until after harvest. Mr. Fee intends going just before harvest to assist in harvesting and threshing his crop in that State. It is also his intention to sell his stock and implements and farm there, and invest in Alberta lands. Mr. and Mrs. Fee both like the country and climate. Mr. Fee has a lot of boys and between what C.P. R. land he has bought and homesteads taken, he has secured 1160 acres of choice land which will be valuable some day.

If you visit Noble Morrison's farm you find it well stocked with cattle and fine horses. This stock of cattle of 170 head are all in good condition which goes to show that Mr. Morrison is a man that understands the business. You will find a three-year-old stallion with bone and muscle that cannot be excelled in this part of the country. Also his driving horse is of the slick type and no doubt would drive away the blues to take a ride behind such an animal. There is just one thing Mr. Morrison needs which we hope he will secure sooner or later.
